

50 REASONS NOT TO CHANGE

I'm not sure my boss would like it.	It's too ambitious.	We don't have equipment.	It's Impossible!	It's too expensive.
We'll catch flak for that.	No one asked me.	We didn't budget for it.	I don't have the authority.	That's someone else's responsibility.
It won't fly.	No es mi problema.	It will take too long.	It's hopeless.	We can't take the chance.
We've always done it this way.	It's too complicated.	What's in it for me?	They won't fund it.	It's too radical.
It's too political.	We don't have consensus yet.	It's contrary to policy.	We have too many layers.	There's too much red tape.
We're doing OK as it is.	It can't be done.	It's not my job.	It needs more thought.	Another department tried that.
It's not our problem.	We don't have staff.	We tried that before.	It's against tradition.	They're too entrenched.
We're waiting for guidance on that.	It won't work in this department.	This is just a fad.	No se puede.	There's not enough time.
There's no clear mandate.	It will never fly upstairs.	¡Nunca pasará!	Maybe, maybe not.	It needs committee study.
We've never done that before.	Me falta ánimo.	I'm all for it.	They don't really want to change.	It's too visionary.
