

English Written Exercise - 12th Form - L.L.I

Read the following text:

Shirley, Alfred and their children, George, had grown up in an atmosphere of respect for the Civil War. Shirley, Alfred, and their children had only childhood memories of the "War" and were not aware of the real war.

In the early and middle of their working life, they had been working hard to support the bill. Then one day in Atlanta, the town of Atlanta was divided for the opportunity to support the bill. The bill was money. It was the money that would be used to support the bill. Shirley, Alfred and their children had grown up in an atmosphere of respect for the Civil War. Shirley, Alfred and their children had only childhood memories of the "War" and were not aware of the real war.

"I won't be a big-hearted man", she thought. Shirley, Alfred and their children had grown up in an atmosphere of respect for the Civil War. Shirley, Alfred and their children had only childhood memories of the "War" and were not aware of the real war.

1. Shirley, Alfred and their children
2. Shirley, Alfred and their children
3. Shirley, Alfred and their children
4. Shirley, Alfred and their children
5. Shirley, Alfred and their children