

Lesson 30
The Indirect Question: A Finite Noun Clause

What does the term finite mean when applied to dependent clauses?

What does the term noun mean when applied to dependent clauses?

What is the only other finite noun clause you have learned so far?

What marks a sentence as a direct question?

What are the names of the three types of embedded speech acts in Latin?

Which of these three are non-finite? What non-finite verb form is used?

Which are finite? What mood of the verb is used in the finite clause(s)?

Basic Sentences

In each Basic Sentence, copy the Latin main verb and the English equivalent used in translation.

BS 30.1

BS 30.2

BS 30.3

In each Basic Sentence, place square brackets around the indirect question clause, circle the Latin interrogative word and copy the English equivalent used in translation for the interrogative.

BS 30.1 Sciō quid sit amor.

BS 30.2 Interrogāvī ipsōs an essent Christiānī.

BS 30.3 Forsitan et Priamī fuerint quae Fāta requīrās.