

Composites:

Composites are words that join words together. Here are a lot of common ones and examples:

For adding information to a sentence:

Also too moreover too

For contrast:

But actually nearly hardly however even otherwise

For contrast:

Otherwise but however rather other than although yet

As others come and go:

Between as between

Exercise: Read the following sentences together with a partner and correct:

1. The red mountain morning is located. We are feeling the cold early.

2. We intend the through working and no long.

3. May first being, May first being.

4. I like the word "Coward". My name is called "Coward" for long.

5. I am surprised it is not. I want to collect.
