This worksheet contains 100 simple sentences to practice conjugation of –AR, -ER, and –IR verbs. I designed it as an exam practice but it could be used at any point for any verb tense. (preterite, imperfect, present, conditional, future) You can decide what tense to assign to the packet. If you assign it as preterite homework, be aware that some verbs in the practice have irregular forms.

Each section contains a helpful box chart first for students to write out the regular verb endings.

Worksheet works great as extra practice for students who need it, a review for final exams, or as an in class group exercise. Nothing super fancy about this worksheet, just enough extra practices for everyone as never seems to be enough included in textbook editions.
