I'm Thankful For...

Thanksgiving is a holiday where people give thanks for all the things they have. Although we can be thankful for the material things we have, such as our Nintendo WII and our Pokemon Conventions, the things we might really be thankful for are things that we cannot buy.

Write something you are thankful for and the reason:

I am thankful for _____ because.....

Write the other person you are thankful for: _____

Please圈出你认为你最想对这个人的感谢之情：

These people are thankful. They either volunteer (at a soup kitchen or working with homeless people) and things and people who have less than they do. If you want to volunteer, what type of place would you like to volunteer at? What helped you out? Please write your answer on the next page.

Do other families live without a home? I want to know an example of some children by giving them the opportunity to tell their story.
