Providing Reasons

Once you have stated your opinion, it is important to have at least 3 different reasons to support it. Use the transitions provided, to generate three strong reasons for the opinions below.

Transitions when providing reasons:

- |                 |                    |
|-----------------|--------------------|
| • First         | • Another reason   |
| • To start      | • Finally          |
| • To begin with | • Lastly           |
| • Second        | • Most importantly |
| • Next          | • One last reason  |
