

Types of Sentences

A statement ends with a period. An exclamatory ends with an exclamatory mark. A statement ends with a period. A question ends with a question mark.
--

Write the sentence using the correct comma and the comma on the right the end of the sentence.

Statements, Questions, Comments, Exclamations

Example: What time are we eating dinner?

1. Put your papers aside and get your books out. _____
2. I am so excited that I was invited to the party. _____
3. What language is he speaking? _____
4. We learned about another culture in class today. _____
5. That is not fair. _____
6. Share your cookies with your brother. _____
7. What is something that worries _____
8. We watched the girl play out to her grandma for a piece of candy. _____