

TAX DEMAND

Most people living on the lord's manor had to pay a bewildering array of charges, fees, and taxes. Here are a few examples:

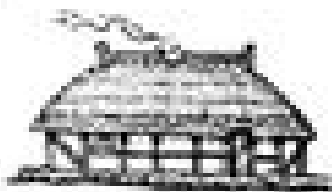

Wood-penry:
for the right to collect firewood on the lord's land

Agistment:
for the right to graze animals in the forest

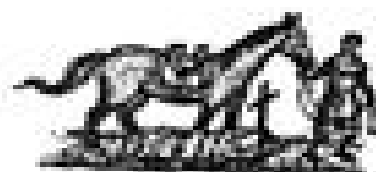

Chimnager:
for the right to carry goods through the forest

Boedel silver:
for the right to live in a house on the lord's land

Foddercorn:
grain a villain had to provide to feed the lord's horses

Heriot:
upon death, a family had to give the lord the dead man's best animal
