

Past Perfect Form

[had + past participle]

The Past Perfect expresses the idea that something occurred before another action in the past. It can also show that something happened before a specific time in the past.

I did not have any money because I had lost my wallet.

She only understood the movie because she had read the book.

We had had that car for ten years before it broke down.

Past Perfect Forms

Positive

Negative

Question

iSLCollective.com