

Future Tense Worksheet

One way of expressing the future is to say things that you are going to do. This is formed by using the verb ir with another verb following it. The second verb is left in the infinitive.

Voy a estudiar. I am going to study.
Vas a trabajar. You are going to work
Juan va a gritar. Juan is going to yell.

Ellos van a comer. They are going to eat.
Vamos a cantar. We are going to sing.

Write a complete sentence for each of the tasks below.

1. Name 5 things that you are going to do "después de la clase".
2. Name 5 things "su mamá" is going to do "para ti"(for you).
3. Name 5 things we are going to do "en la fiesta"
4. Naomi y Ernesto son malos. Name 5 things they are going to do.
5. José es un angel. Name 5 things that he is not going to do.

Future Tense means "will" + verb. It is used to give instructions on how to do something, to give a strong statement about something that will occur in the future, or predict the future. This is a stronger statement than the "going to" statement that we make when we use ir with a second verb to say (going to".

I will eat. Yo comeré.
You will run. Tú correrás.
He will fly. El correrá.

They will jump. Ellos correrán.
We will win. Nosotros ganaremos.

Remember the irregular roots in this tense: Querer-querr, Poner-pondr, Poder-podr, Salir-saldr
Hacer-har, Venir-vendr, Decir-dir, Saber-sabr,
