

14 children were sitting on the grass. Some more students came to sit with them. Now there are 28 students sitting on the grass. How many more students came to sit?

There were 24 ants in the ant hole. Some more ants came to join them. Now there are 40 ants in the grass. How many ants came to the ant hole?

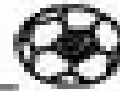

The baker made 27 cookies in his first batch. Then he baked some more. Now he has 50 cookies in his bakery. How many cookies were in the second batch?

There are 15 nickels in my piggy bank. Tomorrow I will get some more. If I end up with a total of 23 nickels, how many more did I get?

There were some boys playing soccer. Then 10 more boys came to join them. Now there are 28 boys playing soccer. How many boys were playing soccer to begin with?

Yesterday there were some pencils in the bin. Today Mr. Smith added 22 more. Now there are 45 pencils in the bin. How many pencils were there yesterday?

Last week there were a few cookies in the jar. This week mom put 24 cookies in the jar. Now there are 32 cookies in the jar. How many were there last week?

Last year Mr. Olex had some cornets in his garden. This year he planted 33 more. Now he has 47 cornets in his garden. How many were there last year?