Reading Strategies Worksheet

Identify two reading goals, one short-term and one long-term.

- Long-term reading goal: Understand my vocabulary
- Short-term reading goal: Read a full word chapter book

Write a plan to address each goal based on each of the following questions:

1. How do you currently approach the reading materials in the course?

Effectively use reading strategies for the course I read to find find a quiet place that is free from distractions. When I read a chapter use a book highlighter and underline. I will use an index or the reading skills and strategies notes. As soon as I have completed those steps, I will re-read the notes to determine the chapters most important information on the subject. Using these notes to keep the information and ensure that I am prepared for future tests. (Reviewing the notes and chapters help me retain the information from books.)

How might you incorporate three of the suggestions covered this week into your study plan?

After reading the reader's chapter, I have learned several tips and strategies on how to read and study more effectively. Some of the suggestions I will incorporate into my study plan is processing, keeping track words, using the questions on the end of each chapter as a study guide, and using outline notes to research more information on a subject. Using these strategies will help me concentrate, understand what I am reading better, help prepare me for tests. In general, establish a quiet place for active reading. I will make consistent it going on school. Having good study habits is important to get through school successfully.

How might the plan help you accomplish your reading goals?

One of my goals is to understand my vocabulary, so that I can read more effectively. One of the strategies that use from the plan to accomplish my vocabulary is to use flash cards. My second goal is to learn how to retain information better. I use the reading strategies from my plan to help me with my second goal. The processing, track words, using the questions at the end of each chapter as a study guide, and using outline notes to research more information on a subject. Following these strategies will help improve my ability to retain information. Making notes to make my notes will also help me with this.
