

Abolitionist – To bring an offence into being

Acquiescence – Liberty of a man in doing a wrong

Aggravation – A person who strikes first

Alibi – Circumstances connected with a fact

Allegation – A person appointed by parties to examine disputes between them

Allegation – The particular facts alleged and admitted

Allegation – A good form of words

Allegation – The history of things during religious life

Allegation – A person who speaks in a language

Allegation – A list of facts

Allegation – Collection of subjects in a year – a history

Allegation – A, or another, or a better, or not, or the same, or different, or

Allegation – A person who speaks in a language

Allegation – A person who speaks in a language

Allegation – A man who speaks in a language

Allegation – A man who speaks in a language

Allegation – A man who speaks in a language

Allegation – A man who speaks in a language

Allegation – A man who speaks in a language

Allegation – A man who speaks in a language

Allegation – A man who speaks in a language

Allegation – A man who speaks in a language

Allegation – A man who speaks in a language

Allegation – A man who speaks in a language

Allegation – A man who speaks in a language