

Just the Facts

- Both the _____ and _____ nervous systems control respiration.
- The _____ are hollow spaces in the bones of the skull that open into the nasal cavity.
- The flap that covers the nasal tract is called the _____ and the one that covers the trachea is called the _____ .
- Capillaries in the walls of the alveoli exchange oxygen and carbon dioxide by the process of _____.
- The diaphragm _____ and moves downward during inhalation.
- The amount of air that can be brought into the lungs is called _____ .
- Chronic obstructive pulmonary disease is a group of chronic respiratory disorders including _____, chronic bronchitis, and _____ .
- Two disorders of the respiratory system that are caused by a virus are _____ and a _____ .
- One respiratory system disorder that is directly linked to smoking is _____ .
- The respiratory disorder that has an increased incidence since 1991 and is the most common fatal infectious disease in the world today is _____ .

Use the circled letters to form the answer to this jumble. Clue: What substance is linked to cancer of the esophagus and ulcers?
