

Biblical Boundaries February 8, 2009

Introduction

- This week we want to discuss with you about setting up some Biblical Boundaries.
- In order to live holy, separated and acceptable unto God, we must set the boundaries found in the Word of God.
- By doing so, you protect and guard your godly decisions, which place you on the path to your godly destination.
- The road you travel depends on the boundaries you establish based in the Word.
- No boundaries lead to a life that is out of control and destined for hell.
 - Highway to hell by AC/DC...no stop signs, no speed limits...leads to destruction.
- Boundaries are like a road map. You can't get to where you want to go without planning. Otherwise, you won't know when you arrive. Boundaries get you where God wants you to be.
- Biblical boundaries guide you to the destination of Godly promises.
- Let us see what the Bible has to say about Biblical Boundaries.

(NKJV) Galatians 5 13 For you, brethren, have been called to liberty; only do not use liberty as an opportunity for the flesh, but through love serve one another. 14 For all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this: "You shall love your neighbor as yourself." 15 But if you bite and devour one another, beware lest you be consumed by one another!

(Message) Galatians 5 13-15 It is absolutely clear that God has called you to a free life. Just make sure that you don't use this freedom as an excuse to do whatever you want to do and destroy your freedom. Rather, use your freedom to serve one another in love; that's how freedom grows. For everything we know about God's Word is summed up in a single sentence: Love others as you love yourself. That's an act of true freedom. If you bite and ravage each other, watch out—in no time at all you will be annihilating each other, and where will your precious freedom be then?
