

Name _____ Period _____

Point of View
First Person	Third Person Limited	Third Person Omniscient
Uses words like...	Uses words like...	Uses words like...
The narrator...	The narrator...	The narrator...
The story informs the reader of _____ the characters' actions.	The story informs the reader of _____ the characters' actions.	The story informs the reader of _____ the characters' actions.
So What?!
1. The short story, "Flowers for Algernon," is written in _____ point of view.
2. The narrator of "Flowers for Algernon" is _____.
3. It is important to know that this story is written in _____ because...		