

NATIVE AMERICANS

1. Circle the correct form of the verb.

- a) Settlers didn't use / used to bring cornflour to their homes.
- b) The Native Americans use / used to hunt with arrows and spears.
- c) The Native Americans used / use to smoke.

2. Write the questions with 'Did... use to ...?'

- a) The settlers didn't use to live in houses.
_____?
- b) Cowboys used to look after the cattle.
_____?

3. Read and answer the questions.

About 200 years ago, people from Europe came living on the West Coast of the United States of America. Before to come west, the USA, they were living near the Appalachian Mountains. By 1760, they began to build houses and small towns near the Ohio River. They called the Mississippi by MDC. Settlers really began to live in the West Coast and the west coast of the Rocky Mountains in the 1840s. Cowboys used to herding and cookware used to look after the cattle. The settlers weren't the first people to arrive in the West of the United States of America. Native Americans lived there long before. They used to live in houses and move from place to place. They used to eat buffalo and communicate using smoke signals.

- 1. What did the cowboys use to look after?

- 2. Where did the settlers come west of the Rocky Mountains?

- 3. Where did the people from Europe come before 200 years ago?

- 4. How did the Native Americans use to communicate?

- 5. What did the west of the United States of America before 1760?

4. Complete the text with words from the box.

used	begin	Native Americans
smoke	and	live
look	after	cattle

The Native Americans used to live in 1 _____ They used to 2 _____ _____ in places with different seasons. They used to move to the spring and live in one place in the 3 _____ and move again to the fall and 4 _____ _____ in another place in the winter. The buffalo were very important to the 5 _____