

Reading/Viewing Strategies

1. After reading a text about the growing world of genetic polymers, the reader notices that scientists are working on their own to understand the "big picture" of the world. The reader notices that the scientists are working on their own to understand the world.

What is the purpose of the text? (CITE THE TEXT)

- A. To inform
- B. To persuade
- C. To entertain
- D. To explain

2. The reader notices that the text is written in a way that is both informative and persuasive. The reader notices that the text is written in a way that is both informative and persuasive.

What is the purpose of the text? (CITE THE TEXT)

"I have the answer!" I said excitedly. I was in the middle of my experiment. I had just discovered the answer to the question.

"I have the answer!" I said excitedly. I was in the middle of my experiment. I had just discovered the answer to the question.

"I have the answer!" I said excitedly. I was in the middle of my experiment. I had just discovered the answer to the question.

What is the purpose of the text? (CITE THE TEXT)

- A. To inform
- B. To persuade
- C. To entertain
- D. To explain

3. After reading a text about the world of genetic polymers, the reader notices that the scientists are working on their own to understand the world.

- 1) To inform
- 2) To persuade
- 3) To entertain
- 4) To explain

- A. 1, 2, 3, 4
- B. 1, 2, 3
- C. 1, 2, 4
- D. 1, 3, 4

4. After reading a text about the world of genetic polymers, the reader notices that the scientists are working on their own to understand the world.