

Addition/Multiplication Facts Review

This section will help you discover which addition or multiplication facts you need to review. The same sheet can be used to review either addition or multiplication. To review addition, write answers as quickly as you can. Do not try to work out answers that you do not know immediately. If you are not sure of an answer, go right on to the next fact. Use the same method for multiplication.

Now check your answers. Circle any facts you did incorrectly as well as the ones you did not answer. These are the facts you need to review so that you will be able to work multiplication/division problems easily. Practice all the facts you have circled for a few minutes several times a day until you can remember the correct answer as you look at each one.
