

What is going on in an unbalanced rain cloud?

The negative and positive particles in a cloud are attracted. When they come together they cause a loud and very hot explosion, called lightning!