

Colours of the Bible

Grade Level or Age Group:

I have used this activity with grade 7-8 students.

Lesson Title:

A Word of many colors.

Lesson Objectives:

Given a biblical notation, the students will be able to find the passage in the Bible.

Materials Needed:

- * A class set of New Testaments or Bibles.
- * A class set of copies of the Scripture Coloring page.
- * Coloring felts or pencils.
- * Appropriate scripture passage(s).

Contents/Activities:

1. Teach the students how to find passages in the New Testament. Depending on the readiness of the group you have, you might want to cover the following elements:

- * where to find the New Testament in a Bible
- * using the index
- * biblical notations

2. Use the drawing provided on the right (click on the stained glass window to get an enlarged printable version) to make a "scripture coloring sheet". Note that it should be fairly easy to create your own coloring page as well - it would simply involve tracing the general contour of an existing drawing and then dividing it into as many pieces as you wish. Steps to follow:
