2003-2004 World Literature and Composition Honors Verbals Worksheets, Page 1 of 11

301 Gerund Phrases

EXERCISE Underline the gerund phrase(s) in each of the following sentences. State its function: S, DO, IO, OP, PN.

- Waiting in line can be tiresome.
- 2. I love swimming in the ocean.
- The value of reading books cannot be overstated.
- 4. Flying a plane can be an exciting experience.
- Lois liked cooking exotic dishes.
- 6. Jack didn't enjoy cleaning up his room.
- Walking for the first time excited the baby.
- 8. The difficulty of writing a poem became obvious at once.
- Breaking new ground in cancer research is a challenge many scientists are trying to meet.
- Unlocking the mystery of the disease will be a major contribution.
- Appreciating music is in itself a gift, even if a person is not a musician
- 12. Listening carefully in class helps a student.
- 13. Talking on the phone was Frank's favorite habit.
- 14. The joy of giving gifts is watching people open them.
- Most people like helping others.
- 16. In answering the question, try to discuss these three
- 17. Reading a thermometer is not usually a hard task.
- 18. Seeing all the ordinary sights of nature with a fresh eye
- 19. Driving coast to coast took longer than I thought it would.
- 20. Feeling healthy is a large part of happiness.

302 Infinitives

EXERCISE Some of the following sentences have infinitives; others do not. If a sentence has an infinitive, underline it. If a sentence has no infinitive, write None.

- I like to bake cookies.
- Fighting against the current, the swimmer finally reached shore.
- The rocking chair was made by a sect in Pennsylvania called the Shakers.
- 4. To see one's own faults is hard.
- 5. Our goal is to raise $10,000 for our candidate.
- To think that we almost lost is startling.
- 7. He seemed to be ill
- The victorious captain was little known to the troops.
- 9. Will he want to go to the theater with us?
- To discover a new continent was the goal of some early explorers.
- 11. They came upon a vast ocean, which they named "Pacific."

- To sand these floors will take time.
- Victor wants to paint his house this year.
- 14. To travel to Germany is Hans' goal.
- 15. Charley's ambition is to become a Major League pitcher.
- To win is desirable but not essential.
- 17. We hope to visit Catherine.
- 18. I plan to finish before Saturday.
- The train is almost ready to leave.
- To her credit, she apologized for her angry letter.

303 Prepositional Phrases - Adjective Phrases

EXERCISE Draw parentheses around the adjective phrases in the sentences below. Indicate which word it describes.

- The boy in the red shirt kept tapping his pencil.
- The heat of the July day sapped the energy of the entire summer-school class.
- 3. A girl in a flowered sundress fanned herself lazily.
- The tow-headed student in the back of the room shifted restlessly in his seat.
- The lesson on the prepositional phrase was the subject of the day.
- The students had already learned the definitions of nouns and pronouns.
- They had also been taught the rules governing various uses of the adverb and adjective.
- They knew the definition of a phrase.
- The summer's heat in the classroom, however, interfered with their concentration on grammar.
- The breeze from the fans blew their materials about, but it did little more.
- Opening the windows on the east wall of the room only brought the noise of traffic into the classroom.
- 12. What is the reason for grammar, anyway?
- Grammar and usage provide guidelines for writing and speaking standard English.
- 14. What is the exact nature of the prepositional phrase?
- 15. How can anyone tell the difference between an adjective phrase and an adverb phrase?
- 16. Does position in the sentence determine whether a phrase is an adjective phrase or an adverb phrase?
- The details of the prepositional phrase are not very difficult, but they do take concentration.
- 18. In the heat of summer, however, grammar seemed harder.
- Nevertheless, both the students and the teacher in that classroom plugged on.
- 20. They conquered the mysteries of the prepositional phrase.

304 Prepositional Phrases - Adverb Phrases