

Or, And, But, Because:

The boy wants to learn. He needs to.

The girl studies. She needs to learn.

Everything is going? Should I be worried?

The mother said. He can not learn.

The father said. They were happy.

The boy wanted to play. He needs to learn.

The girl said. They were happy. They were not.

The parents were angry. The parents were not.

The girl was not. They did not learn.

The boy did not go to school. He was going to school.
