

This sentence has a noun clause as a direct object. Like many noun clauses, this one is introduced by the expletive that. An expletive is a word that has a function but no meaning. The function of this that is to introduce a noun clause.