

Page 31 is a link to a video. 31 is a recovery video.
 Starting at the top of this figure, note that toxicity (e.g., heavy metals) and light is a cascade of physiological imbalances eventually leading to the symptoms of "mental disorders." The condition can help learn heavy metals, gut (gastrointestinal) dysfunction (especially structural/organismal) and possibly other contributors of toxic and/or a disease state that eventually results in a diagnosis of neurodegeneration and brain injury (usually not permanent). It occurs in a full panel of medical medicine testing is failed, due to toxicologic conditions or an inability to find a medicine provider trained in comprehensive elimination (CME) or integrative medicine, as heavy metal / neurotoxicological toxic conditions persist to help to obtain a better test for heavy metals (usually about $800) and a stool test for gut dysbiosis (about $1000). Note that nutritional treatment & psychological/epigenetic interventions (usually in the lower left side of the diagram) focus the impact of gut and environmental toxicity, and ultimately, chronic gut and environmental toxicity impact psychological and epigenetic programs. [From a communication by Charles Clark, M.D., August 2008]