

Name _____

Date _____

Lesson 8: Structure of a Paragraph (Writing Activity)

Name _____

Topic of Paragraph(s)	Paragraph Format	Topic(s)
(I) Topic Sentence (Direct support detail quotation and support detail and topic sentence)	(I) Direct Support Colleague Detail at the Detail to the Detail Colleague Detail at the Detail to the Detail	Introduction – get your reader interested Topic Sentence – supports your topic Introduction uses point A First support detail explains point A Give information or an example about detail A Give more information about detail A Second support detail explains point A Give information or an example about detail A Give more information about detail A
(II) General Introduction	(II) General Introduction Colleague Detail at the Detail to the Detail Colleague Detail at the Detail to the Detail	Introduction uses point A First support detail explains point A Give information or an example about detail A Give more information about detail A Second support detail explains point A Give information or an example about detail A Give more information about detail A
(III) More Introduction	(III) More Introduction Colleague Detail at the Detail to the Detail Colleague Detail at the Detail to the Detail	Introduction uses point A First support detail explains point A Give information or an example about detail A Give more information about detail A Second support detail explains point A Give information or an example about detail A Give more information about detail A
(IV) Conclusion	(IV) Conclusion	Recap your previous, but remind it – all your reader that you talked about topic to reader to leave your reader with a good feeling, or leave your reader with something to think about