

Directions: For many of the animal kingdom's families, the parents and offspring (babies) resemble each other. Look through nature magazines to find examples of animal babies that look like their parents. Cut the pictures and paste them below, creating a collage.

