

Descriptive Paragraph

Typical sentences of a descriptive paragraph often begin with words that tell the reader impressions that author wants to convey. Descriptive words in English order. The paragraph often ends with a concluding sentence that ties the description together.

Topic sentence

Now that the weather is so cold and dreary, I often cheer myself up by strolling down the sidewalk of the beach. Every morning, I walk on the beach just from dawn till the noon. As I walked along the water, the cool wind doesn't bother my body. I caught other's attention from the offing, many beautifuls over and under the pale sunlight of early summer.

Details

When I was about swimming, I relaxed to the sun, my skin with smell of the seawater. They are relaxed and let the rhythm of nature of the water fills me. I hope the joyfulness of the beach will stay with me all year.

Conclusion

