

Teacher Commentary on Lesson using Divisibility Rules:

** They were attentive as the book The Doorbell Rang was read and enjoyed sorting and eating the cookies. They used a worksheet to sort the cookies as they were divided in the book (work sample). They could use the cookies to divide and also worked the division problems using paper and pencil.

**Students used a Frayer Diagram to practice the vocabulary words.

**Students were given a chart with the divisibility rules and used the graphic organizer (Justify Your Answer) to practice using the divisibility rules for a given set of numbers.

**Students were allowed to use websites on the computer to practice and as an informal assessment

**Students enjoyed this lesson. The story was a good way to introduce the lesson and the websites provided good practice and assessment for the concept.
