

A grayscale X-ray image of a human torso, showing the skeletal structure of the ribcage, spine, and shoulders. The image is centered against a black background. Overlaid on the chest area is the text of the Fourth Amendment of the United States Constitution. The text is in a clean, sans-serif font, with the title 'AMENDMENT IV' in a larger font size than the body text. The text is arranged in a vertical column, following the shape of the chest. The overall aesthetic is clinical and technical, using the medical imagery of an X-ray to represent the legal concept of a search and seizure.
