Context Practice:

Here we go again! Time to _____ another context practice for my students. To what _____ or ranges, will these words and my imagination take me this time? These little exercises are not so easy to _____ or spit out. I hope nobody will _____ or examine them too closely, as they might think me a bit bummy. But I will not allow this fear to _____ or weaken my resolve to provide some much-needed context practice with a new set of vocabulary words. Actually, it's no secret that challenging the brain at my age can actually _____ or renew brain cells. In fact, I think this benefit could not possibly be limited to the brains of adults, so I must not _____ or diminish its advantage to young brains.

Now that I'm done exercising my brain, I think I'll make myself some _____ or tasty treat as a reward for a job well done. Now please don't _____ or hound me about my need to watch my diet too! You know, being 'of a certain age' is not a _____ disease. Some say it's just the beginning of an exciting adventure.
