

NAME: _____

CONFLICT—EXTERNAL VS INTERNAL

1. Your mom is driving you and your friends to a big game in another town. You left in plenty of time, but she seems to have lost her way. It's getting late and there's no sign of the gym. You think you saw a sign for the Sports Center a few blocks back. When you tell your mom, she says, "Who's driving: You or me?"

Do you have a choice?

YES

_____ vs. _____
(choice #1) (choice #2)

NO—Who or What is the Character up Against?

_____ vs. _____
(Main Character) (Someone OR Something)

What Type of Conflict Is This? _____

2. You have basketball practice, which you love, every Friday night. Last week, though, you missed it because of a family commitment. This Friday a friend has invited you to go to a movie that you have been wanting to see for forever.

Do you have a choice?

YES

_____ vs. _____
(choice #1) (choice #2)

NO—Who or What is the Character up Against?

_____ vs. _____
(Main Character) (Someone OR Something)

What Type of Conflict Is This? _____

3. Your class is working on school science projects. Your group has been working hard on a model exploding volcano. When the day comes for groups to share projects, you see that another group did the exact same thing!

Do you have a choice?

YES

_____ vs. _____
(choice #1) (choice #2)

NO—Who or What is the Character up Against?

_____ vs. _____
(Main Character) (Someone OR Something)

What Type of Conflict Is This? _____