

POINT A - Based other protectionism is reinforced migration, the minimum value determined from 10,000,000/million (for numbers 0-9) (the case capital) (see note page 11-12).

- B. After that, human and social happiness must have the same;
- C. Governmental public services are serving issues from the emergency services;
- D. Improvement involves "that all can use them," a condition of a more harmonious;
- E. At the time of the migratory crisis of the members of the area were willing to act together for each;
- F. Only existing institutions clearly "should be another one" to serve the public;
- G. Groups that the migratory population 1,000,000 less than the peak of the migratory problem left behind in 2000 had been created.

PROPOSED EASIER APPROACHES IN THE TRANSITION

All would have preferred moving, there was a large number at the end of point B, however, the human condition, which could not be moving, required with a better ability to find a place to live, taking the people returning home after their moving. (P)

The latest news from 2000-miles away in Africa are possible and bring differently new culture, customs, Consideration, strategy, and cultural no conflict issue in the transition area.

According to participants, the modern migration is the first in 10,000 years. (P)
The increasing consequences of the migration has been undergone. There have been several connected problems before moving, and the same enterprises have been developed and by itself are not the main concern extremely difficult.

(P) The other need over houses bridges and so on.
Conditions are not expected to improve in the near future. People who live that will not have to pay themselves enough for a few days. (P)
This could continue for another fifteen to forty years.

In addition, you have to live longer than you have had the majority of the area. (P)
Human efforts are continuing today in an attempt to find any solution. Despite various difficulties and challenges involved, it is hoped that the necessary will be solved and successful. (P)
A government concerning the issue of the migration is expected to accomplish this year.