

Directions # 3

Write the type of sentence by writing one of the following abbreviations on the space at the right: (S) simple, (C) compound, (CC) complex, and (C-C) compound-complex.

Example: "Bring me a letter of the best school that you could find" (C-C).

1. I described her in my autobiography (S)
2. The children at the carnival were so excited, their parents were angry (C)
3. Although the children were excited for the carnival, their parents were angry for the amount of money (C)
4. John Schmitt had been an excellent agent when he had graduated from college (S)
5. The father reported the scientific investigator's results to the students, his mother, and his friend (S)
6. "I have never been happier than a engineer's personal computer" (S)
7. The most famous of my school's graduates is the one who was named "The Great One" (S)
8. The money he has made by his first business meeting, which he reported to his wife (S)
9. The members of the City Council were so excited they wanted to make some different City Hall (S)
10. Because it was raining, the school's students got a better view of the fire (S)
11. General Lee was a brilliant leader of the army, but he was not a good general (S)
12. The soldiers were so excited and happy, but they were angry for the amount of money (S)
13. Because I had the money, which I had been planning to use for my college (S)
14. The money of the telephone company for the first time, they were so excited they had to pay for it (S)
15. When I had the money, which I had been planning to use for my college (S)
16. The money of the telephone company for the first time, they were so excited they had to pay for it (S)
17. Because I had the money, which I had been planning to use for my college (S)
18. The money of the telephone company for the first time, they were so excited they had to pay for it (S)
19. When I had the money, which I had been planning to use for my college (S)
20. The money of the telephone company for the first time, they were so excited they had to pay for it (S)
21. Because I had the money, which I had been planning to use for my college (S)
22. The money of the telephone company for the first time, they were so excited they had to pay for it (S)