

Name: _____

Date: _____

method quiz SCIENTIFIC

The is that part of a scientific investigation that can be controlled or measured.

The procedure used to collect data about an object or an event is known as an

A is an educated guess.

A decision taken on the basis of information is known as a

The is that part of a scientific investigation that remains the same.

The tool that magnifies faraway objects is known as a

The is a tool that makes objects appear larger.

The process of asking questions is known as

The is a series of steps used to plan and conduct an experiment.

A possible answer to a scientific question is known as