

"Last Saturday I went over David's house and we played the Sega and the N64 then we went outside, and played football then we went back inside and played with his Guinea pig then we went over my house and jumped on the trampoline for a little while then we went in my house and played the playstation for a while then we went to Craig's house and played his Sega Dreamcast for a while then we went back over David's house and watched t.v. and then me and Craig spent the night over David's and we scared his sisters by putting on scream and zombie looking masks. Me and Craig spent the night and we stayed up all night playing games playing with his Guinea pig and playing his Sega Dreamcast and also playing the N64 and watching Battlebots and cartoons."

Last Saturday I went over David's house and we played the Sega, and the N64 then we went outside, and played football then we went back inside, and played with his Guinea Pig then we went over my house, and jumped on the trampoline for a little while then we went in my house, and played the playstation for a while then we went to Craig's house, and played his Sega DreamCast for a while then we went back over David's house, and watched t.v. and then me, and Craig spent the night over David's, and we scared his sisters by putting on scream, and zombie looking masks. Me, and Craig spent the night, and we stayed up all night playing game playing with his Guinea Pig, and playing his Sega DreamCast, and also playing the N64, and watching Battle Bots and cartoons.