Nutrition Label Worksheet

| | name of product | |
|-------|--|---|
| | serving size | number of servings |
| | main ingredient in product | |
| Is th | ne product fortified or enriched ? See 1 | notes for definitions. If so, with what nutrients? |
| | mon label terms check your text for on your label? What nutrients are the | their definitions. Is there an indication that these are y referring to? |
| | "high" in any nutrients? If so, which | ones? |
| | "good source" of any nutrients? If s | o, which ones? |
| | "reduced" in Calories or any nutrients | s? Again, if so, which ones? |
| | "free" in fat, saturated fat, trans fa ones? | t, sodium, cholesterol or Calories? Once more, which |
| | there any of the acceptable health clai text for those which are allowed by th | ims made regarding the product? Describe. Again, chec e FDA. |

There are three important forms of carbohydrates, two which are listed on labels - sugar (simple, energy source) and fiber (complex, not digested); the third is starch (complex, energy source). How many grams of each are found in this product?