

The Weather - Please read the text and answer

Question 1:

If you are reading this question please change it to your language.
Write the sentence in your native language. Put the sentence in the correct order.

- a) Translate these sentences into English:
  - i. It's raining now.
  - ii. It's cloudy today.
  - iii. It rains like hell.
  - iv. I am thinking it's going to rain.
  - v. I expect it will rain tomorrow.
  - vi. I really like it to rain.

Please read the following sentence and choose the best word. Please the correct one from the following options. In this exercise the different options are presented in random order.

SENSE	MEANING	SYNONYM	ANTONYM	NOTHING
-------	---------	---------	---------	---------

- a. It rains like hell. It's  in the sky.
- b. My colleague has been off sick for about 3 weeks.
- c. I would give him the necessary information.  or less?
- d. It was the cleanest and greenest hill.
- e. I expect you know the difference between the following words.  for the lesson.

Please read the words of the following groups of words and see if there is any difference between them. If there is, explain it. Why do you think groups of words are called pairs? In grammar, we call them synonyms. In general, they are words with similar meanings.

a. cold	connected	grey	quiet
b. clean	lose	extreme	bright
c. broken	stop	already	wrong
d. sleepy	describing	weak	active
e. foggy	pouring	shady	bright

- a) Please write all the following adjectives in the correct sequence in the paragraph below.

rainy, dark, breaking, wind, rainy day, small, changeable, rainy, cloudy