

Friction investigation

Friction is a pushing force between two surfaces.

- . If the surfaces slide across each other easily, this shows that there is low friction.
- · If the surfaces grip each other, there is high friction.

Carry out an investigation, using a Newton meter to measure, to find out which trainer has the highest friction against a surface. Remember to keep the test fair – change the trainer but keep everything else the same.

| Whose shoe is it? | Measurement |
|--|--------------|
| | |
| | |
| | |
| | |
| | |
| | |
| | |
| | |
| | |
| | |
| | |
| | |
| | |
| | |
| | |
| | |
| | |
| | |
| | |
| | |
| | |
| e shoe had the highest friction? | |
| | |
| ribe the trainer's sole. What provided t | ne triction? |
| | |

