

Perfect Punctuation story

The boy who cried "Wolf"

One day , Harry, a shepherd boy, was sitting on a rock minding his flock. Suddenly, he thought of some mischief. He thought for a while and then cried, " Wolf ! Wolf ! Save me." Julius, the farmer, heard his shouts and ran with a stick in his hand to help him. On reaching a quiet and beautiful village, he asked the boy where the wolf was. He said, "It has run away after hearing the noise." Later ,Harry laughed to himself how he had fooled the farmer.

| We must learn to respect elders and not fool them