

Stippling	Hatching	Crosshatching	Circulism
 A vertical oval shape filled with numerous small, dark dots, creating a textured, grainy appearance. The density of the dots increases towards the bottom, resulting in a darker gradient.	 A vertical oval shape filled with parallel, slightly wavy lines. The lines are more densely packed at the bottom, creating a darker gradient.	 A vertical oval shape filled with two sets of parallel lines that intersect to form a grid pattern. The density of the lines increases towards the bottom, creating a darker gradient.	 A vertical oval shape filled with overlapping, concentric circular or spiral lines. The density of the lines increases towards the bottom, creating a darker gradient.