If the user double-clicks on the "7" key or otherwise — selects the capitalized cycle key, the capitalized cycle routine is called which can be called the one or more times to cause the current selection, if any, to be changed to all initial caps, all capitalized, or all lowercase form.

It the user presses the "8" key or otherwise selects the word form list, function 7770 calls the word form list routine described above with regard to Figure 27.

If the user double-click on the "8" key or selects the word type command, function 7774 displays the word type menu. The word type menu allows the user to select a word type limitations as described above with regard to the filter match routine of Figure 26 upon a selected word. In the embodiment shown, this menu is a hierarchical menu having the general form shown in figure ??, which allows the user to specify word ending types, word