

The States are in Control

- There is no coordination in the country
- The Federal Government can be overruled by the State Government on any issue