THE CLEVER FOX

One sunny morning, a fox was walking through the forest when he spotted a crow sitting on a branch with a piece of cheese in her beak. The fox, who was very hungry, wanted the cheese.

He thought for a moment and then said sweetly, "Dear Crow, you have such a lovely voice. Would you sing a song for me?"

Flattered, the crow opened her beak to sing, and the cheese fell to the ground. The clever fox quickly grabbed it and ran away, leaving the crow feeling foolish.

Questions:

- 1. What did the fox want from the crow?*
- 2. How did the fox trick the crow?*
- 3. Why did the crow drop the cheese?*
- 4. What does the word "flattered" mean?*
- 5. What is the moral of the story?*
