Name: Date:

Winter Animals

Winter can be very cold for animals.
Some animals, like bears, sleep all winter in a place called a den.
This is called hibernation.

Other animals do not sleep all winter.
Birds may fly to warmer places. Squirrels stay active and look for food they hid before winter.
Animals change their habits to stay safe and warm during winter.

Questions:

1. What do bears do during winter?

_____

2. What is hibernation?

_____

3. Why do birds fly to warmer places?

_____

4. What do squirrels look for in winter?

_____

5. How do animals survive the winter?

_____