

Name : _____ Date : _____

BARACK OBAMA

Barack Obama was the first Black President of the United States. He became president in 2009. As president, he worked to help people across the country. He talked about hope, change, and working together.

When Barack Obama was a child, he liked reading and learning new things. He studied hard in school and became a lawyer before he became president. Many people were proud when he was elected because it was an important moment in history.

Barack Obama showed that with hard work and education, you can reach your goals.

Fill in the blanks!

1. Barack Obama was the first Black _____ of the United States.
2. He became president in the year _____.
3. As a child, he liked _____ and learning new things.