Black History Month

Black History Month is celebrated every February in the United States. It is a special time to learn about the achievements of African Americans. People remember leaders, inventors, artists, and heroes who helped make the world fairer.

One important leader was Martin Luther King Jr. He believed that everyone should be treated equally. Another hero was Rosa Parks, who refused to give up her seat on a bus. Her brave action helped change unfair laws.

Black History Month teaches respect, courage, and the importance of standing up for what is right.
