

Name : _____ Date : _____

What Is Women's History Month?

Women's History Month is celebrated every March.

It is a time to honor the achievements of women throughout history.

Women have made important contributions in science, education, government, sports, and the arts.

In the past, women did not always have the same rights as men.

Over time, brave women worked hard to create change.

For example, Rosa Parks helped start the Civil Rights Movement by refusing to give up her seat on a bus.

Marie Curie became the first woman to win a Nobel Prize for her work in science.

Today, Women's History Month reminds us that women can be leaders, inventors, scientists, and heroes.

It also encourages young people to follow their dreams.

Short Answer

1. When is Women's History Month celebrated? _____
2. What is Women's History Month a time to honor? _____
3. Name one area where women have made important contributions. _____
4. Who refused to give up her seat on a bus? _____
5. What movement did Rosa Parks help start? _____
6. Who was the first woman to win a Nobel Prize? _____
7. What did Marie Curie study? _____
8. Why is Women's History Month important? _____
9. What rights did women fight for in the past? _____
10. How can you celebrate Women's History Month? _____