Making a Sandwich

On Saturday afternoon, Jake felt hungry after playing outside. He decided to make a peanut butter and jelly sandwich by himself. First, he washed his hands with soap and water. Then he took two slices of bread from the kitchen. Next, he spread peanut butter on one slice of bread. After that, he carefully spread jelly on the other slice. Then he put the two slices together to make a sandwich. Finally, he put the sandwich on a plate and happily ate it at the table.
